

BIOGRAPHY

Marco Gaviraghi Calloni, born in Vimercate in 1968 received his diploma from Brera in 1990; he worked in various artist's studios and showed in national and group competitions; in 1995 with other artists he founded the Gruppo Koinè.

He unites the passion for art with iron work to make original creative design products. He prefers iron and Corten as they come from an industrial craft tradition dear to him, using these materials to create surprising furnishing elements and complementary pieces.

To enhance the quality and fascination of these materials he chooses to leave them rough and free, following the natural evolution linked to time and atmospheric agents. His pieces are born of a passionate study of the renovation of forms and a revisiting of useful products with close attention to the final quality of the product and care in detail. In October of 2015 he presented a collection of his vases and garden complements at Orticolario.
